Dear Jim, Hosty 12/19/74

One of the more interesting things Joe Goulden told me is that when he went to Dallas to do the story and he wanted to find Hosty, he found him listed in the City Directory as "Department of Agriculture."

This could be important.

When you see Dick, would you please ask him if he can xerox that page of the directory for me? I presume the Library has it on file.

Mrs. Hosty answered the phone. It was the right Hosty.

This seems to be suggestive of Hosty having a domestic-intelligence function that required a cover. Or they just lie to hide who they are in the directories. I see no need for them to lie this way. They can always say self-employed, etc.
